

DANIYELLA

I HAVE COME HOME

Am I too fast, am I too slow?
There's just one thing I need to know
Do you really wanna go all the way?
Am I too strong, am I too weak?
I hold my breath so I don't speak
These words I'm longing to say

I have come home – I'm right where I wanna be
No one has ever touched my heart the way you do
I have come home – there's nowhere I'd rather be
No one has ever been this close to me
You're my home my life – you're everything I need

There's not a morning I begin
Without the need to feel your skin
To be with you is making my life complete
You're in my head, you're in my heart
You're even close when we're apart
We need no words to speak

CHORUS

This is the way that I've always wanted my life to be
And you're every reason, you're every song that I sing
