

DANIYELLA

PERFECT LITTLE WORLD

Annie's a smalltown girl
She likes beer more than champaign
Little's enough for her
She loves dancing in the rain
And she knows that life is good
Not in a million years she would trade it if she could

In her torn out jeans she walks like a queen
There's no reason in looking for something more
She lets her mind run free – she's no wannabee
A life like this is what she's been hopin' for
And no matter what – she'll always be that girl
In her perfect little world

She rather plays guitar than watch the folks on MTV
She works at a coffee bar 'cause it's where she wants to be
She quits smoking ever'y day
She doesn't give a damn about what the neighbours say
